

Nicolette Linscott, VP of Communications
linsc014@umn.edu

I am a junior majoring in Strategic Communications with a minor in Public Health. I hope to one day combine my passion for public health, strategic business communication, and nonprofit work to help improve the health care delivery system and promote the health of marginalized populations. In addition to EWH I am also a Public Health Club member, a teaching assistant for a public health course, and a communications volunteer for Be The Match. During my free time I enjoy playing intramural volleyball and flag football, downhill skiing, traveling, and playing with my dog.
