

Sophia Hilali, Volunteer Director
hilal009@umn.edu

Sophia is a junior in biomedical engineering from Edina, MN, who aspires to be a field clinical engineer as well as an Emergency or Pediatric physician down the road. Her interests in medicine, business, and engineering drive her consistent involvement in industry and hospital settings. She is involved with intramural hockey, greek life, and students against hunger on campus. In addition to EWH, Sophia is a freshman seminar teaching assistant and an emergency room scribe at Fairview hospitals around the metro area.
